DEDICATION

When most students hear words such as "double derivative" or "quantitative equation", their bodies tremor in fear. However, when Mrs. Gravelle is in the room, students feel a little more secure. She makes math an exciting class as she presents information in a more interesting, unconventional way. Such demanding subjects as AP Calculus and Statistics became challenging, not torturous. With her SAT Prep Math class, Mrs. Gravelle prepared us for the first major step towards college.

Mrs. Gravelle lives in a world where everything relates to math. And it is a world that she truly loves. Each day we are greeted with a bright smile, and the class is filled with jokes and praise, all somehow relating to the world of math.

Mrs. Gravelle's dedication and commitment to teaching is obvious. She hates to miss class, and hates it even more when her students do, only because she wants them to learn so much. Mrs. Gravelle gives her all, as she surrenders her free time to give extra help to anyone who needs it.

Mrs. Gravelle is more than just a teacher. Mrs. Gravelle is our friend. She is concerned about our education, and our growth as people. Her goal is to not only make excellent students but to make excellent people. She wants us to succeed not only in her class, but in life as well.

We chose Mrs. Gravelle for our dedication because she has contributed greatly to our education and growth at Georgetown High School. Thank you, Mrs. Gravelle, we will carry you with us always.

The Class of "99"

THANK YOU

Where do we begin? It has been a long four years of fundraising, chasing students down for their class dues, and some pretty bizarre skits that are probably better off left unsaid! Through it all, though, you stuck with us and guided us to our senior year. And here we are! If ever you question our appreciation and the worth of your efforts, let our graduation be the proof of your success. You have provided our class with just the right amount of leadership and memories to last a lifetime. Thank you, Mr. Murray, for your diligence, devotion, and dedication.

There really is no easy and quick outline, I guess the easiest way of putting it is I'm finally done and ready to move on. Thank you to everyone who has been there for me, helping me through the pile of sh I constantly got myself into. Out of all the teachers, the teacher I want to thank the most, is Mr. McNeil, last year in English I learned plenty of things, both about life in general and English, and by the way that Emerson book was good. Thank you Tiddbits for a humorous past four years, "your grandmother is a smart woman". Joe M you're awesome. Craig, Simon, and Franko may the BS be with you. Although he's not here to read this thank you, Steve B. for being my inspiration, I'll never forget Rocky Raccoon. Lani thanks for the snoopy pens, I'll be sure to write to you with them. Melika have a fun time your senior year, I won't be here to bug you this time. Anyway it's been fun and maybe I'll see ya some time later on in life.

Farewell

YEARBOOK STAFF

One morning we will awake and realize how much of the past we have forgotten. It is on that morning that our yearbook will become most valuable. Then, and only then, we will be able to truly appreciate the time of our youth. Memories and images of Nature's Classroom, Washington D.C., the many dances, and the friends we've made along the way, should be held and cherished forever. Again, we will remember the thrill of candy falling from the sky, the tremor of fear when passing a senior in the hallway, the feeling of anxiety weeks before the prom, and finally the fear, hope, and anticipation of graduating.

With this yearbook we have tried to capture the best years of our lives. Too soon we will leave our world of comfort which we have built over the past twelve years and enter into a world we have heard so much about, but can only experience for ourselves. Through our experiences and accomplishments we feel we have what it takes to succeed.

To Mrs. Clay and Mr. Luca:

Without your help, long hours, and dedication this yearbook would never have been possible. Mr. Luca, thanks for taking the time, day after day, to explain (which we still don't understand) the pica.

"Mrs. Clay, did we sell any more ads?" You must have heard this line fifty times a day along with the demand of printing out the new list of ads. Thanks for putting up with us.

To the Staff:

We have been friends for so long. Our camaraderie became apparent with each new task we faced. The hours after school were not torturous, but a pleasure working together. The time we sacrificed is clearly shown through each page of the yearbook. Thanks for all the hard work and dedication put forth in our yearbook.

From the Editors,
Shahawna Kim
Laura Flynn
Kara Duffy

The Bridge

This bridge will only take you
halfway there

To those mysterious lands you
long to see:

Through gypsy camps and
swirling Arab fairs

And moonlit woods where unicorns run free.

So come and walk awhile with me and share

The twisting trails and wondrous worlds I've known.

But this bridge will only take you
halfway there-

The last few steps you'll have to take alone.

The Ways of Life

To Every man there openeth
A way that he may go,
And the high soul climbs the
 high way,
And the low soul grapes the
 low,
And in between on the
 misty flats
The rest drift to and fro;
But to every man there
 openeth
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go.
